

City Administrator's Message

Happy New Year! Wow, 2015 is here. This year is full of possibility, and opportunity. As you sit down and think of your new years resolutions, I encourage you to consider serving on a City's volunteer committees. Be a part of your community and make a difference! Here is a list of the committees and a brief summary of what each does.

Parks & Recreation—This committee discusses issues related to park development and design, land acquisition, park expenditures, festivals and events, and makes recommendations to the City Council.

Government Committee—This committee discusses issues related to City Codes, public safety, economic development, intergovernmental agreements, franchises, and more.

Public Works Committee—This committee discusses issues related to water, storm drainage, sewer, transportation, and city-owned grounds and buildings, and makes recommendations to the City Council.

Budget Committee—This committee is responsible for reviewing, discussing and modifying the City's annual proposed budget. The committee approves the budget, and recommends the budget to City Council for adoption.

Again, I encourage you to apply to serve on one of these committees. Applications for 2015 are due by January 10th. Contact City Hall to pick up an application form, or to find out more information.

Winterize Your Home

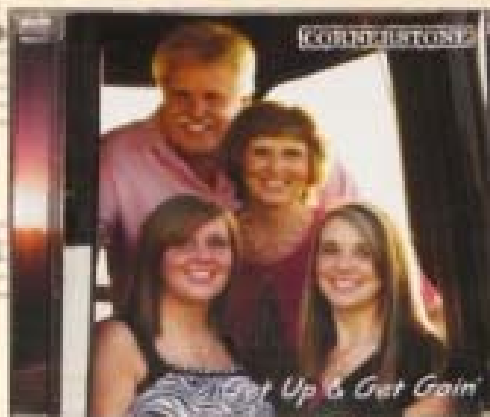

Avoid broken pipes and higher energy costs by taking some easy steps to winterize your home. For example, limit air drafts with rolled towels in front of doors and windows, replace your furnace filter, and close off and cover up exterior hose bibs and pipes to air conditioning units. If you notice a leak, contact a plumber or the City. Taking these simple precautions will help you to stay warm and keep your pocketbooks healthy this winter!
